We are in the process of developing many more learning products. We have created a mark with our products and have already reached a customer base of 50,000 users spread over 2 states in India.

GurujiWorld CBT Products are developed after doing a thorough research on the learning requirements of a naive user. Before development of GurujiWorld CBT Products, certain focused discussions are conducted with naive Users from different streams to find out what and how they would prefer to learn using a GurujiWorld CBT Product. All the findings and feedbacks are converted into product requirement specifications and the products are developed based on these specifications and requirements.
